ALLEGES HEAVY LOSSES AT POKER

Local Man Said to Have Lost Stakes of Approximately $3,500 in Fourteen Months.

MOST OF MONEY BORROWED

Civil Suits to Collect Money and Criminal Action Expected to Follow Sensational Developments.

Civil suits will likely be instituted within the next few days against thirty residents of Seymour, Brownstown and Crothersville to recover alleged gambling losses of approximately $3,500 which Edward J. Brand, 405 West Laurel street, claims to have suffered within the last fourteen months. The names of the defendants and the places where the poker games in which Brand alleges to have lost his money, were played were not made public by Brand's attorneys as they declared that they first desired to incorporate them in the court proceedings.

The facts in connection with Brand's losses are sensational and startling. Most of the money, it is said, was lost in Seymour although games may have been played at Crothersville and Brownstown. Some of the details of the case are being withheld temporarily by Brand's attorneys but it is expected that they will be given to the public in the near future.

Brand, who is an insurance agent in this city, is said to have told his attorneys a great deal of information. According to his story to his attorneys, it is stated, he was invited into a poker game in this city fourteen months ago. At first he was only a visitor but later was induced to participate in a game. At the first "sitting" he lost a small amount but later negotiated a loan for $350 from a local bank furnishing the name of a friend as security. This money soon went the way of the other but Brand claims that he was induced to continue playing as he was told that he had to "stay in to finally beat the game."

According to information given by Brand to his attorneys he has secured loans of approximately $3,500 within the last fourteen months. The notes range from $350 downward and most of them are secured. The notes, it is stated, were given to the banks in Seymour and Brownstown. All of the notes held by the banks

PROFITEERS PROSECUTED

Palmer Tells House Committee of Activity.

By United Press.
Washington, April 29—Hundreds and hundreds of profiteers have been prosecuted by the department of justice since congress amended the Lever act last fall. Attorney General Palmer told the house judiciary committee during its investigation of the sugar situation today. Palmer declared the law against profiteering has been vigorously enforced. The specific matter under investigation by the committee is the alleged action of Palmer in allowing Louisiana sugar growers to charge 17c and 18c a pound for their crop.

TEACHERS TO GET HIGHER SALARIES

Advances Ranging From $20 to $30 a Month Above Present Contract Voted by Board.

TO BE EFFECTIVE NEXT YEAR

All of the Thirty-seven Teachers Have Received Notices of Re-election for Term 1920-1921.

Salary increases ranging from $20 to $30 a month above the present contract have been voted for the teachers in the city schools for next year by the board of trustees. The advances agreed upon for the term of 1920-1921 depend upon the service in the schools and grade of work. The departments in which the teachers are employed were also taken in consideration. The board also re-elected all of the thirty-seven teachers now employed in the public schools for service next year. Notices of re-election and of the higher scale of compensation have been sent to the teachers.

Under the new scale of pay no teacher in this city will receive less than $900 annually and the yearly wage will range from that amount to $1,800. The total increase in the salary budget for the coming year will be $9,400 above the present payroll. The increase amounts to approximately twenty-five percent.

The trustee were anxious to make as large an increase in salary as the available funds would permit, but a further increase would probably have resulted in a term of eight months instead of nine months and the teachers objected to a shorter school year.

The increased salaries which have been demanded by the public during the last few months will mean a considerably higher school levy next year. The money derived from the state for school purposes will not be increased and the additional sum of $9,400 needed to pay the increased salaries in 1920-1921 must be derived by local taxation. This matter was taken in consideration by the school board in voting the increased pay scale and it was not believed advisable to make a further increase in school taxes.

The scale which is in force for the local teachers now compares favorably with that in the larger cities where the salaries have always been higher than in smaller communities.

Local Police Take Two Colored Men From Cattle Car on Baltimore & Ohio Freight Train.

J. T. Abell, chief of police, received a message late Wednesday afternoon telling him to have his force watch for two colored men who were said to be heavily armed and were wanted on serious charges. Chief Abell immediately called in Officers Wallace and Sensback who drove to Hill's crossing east of the city and awaiting the arrival of the freight. The colored men were discovered in an upper deck of a cattle car and the officers closed in on them covering them with guns until they were searched. The officers failed to find any weapons on them, not even a pocket knife. They were brought to the police station here and the North Vernon dispatcher was notified that they were being held. A charge of train riding was placed against them to which they pleaded guilty and were fined $1 and costs. The pair claimed that their home is in St. Louis and that they had been working on a railroad section gang at Columbus, Ohio.

RECOUNT IN NEW JERSEY IS ASKED

Johnson's Managers Charge That "He was Robbed in Several Counties" in the Primary.

WOOD HAS SMALL MAJORITY

Harding is Given Lead of About 17,000 Over Wood in Ohio—Primaries in Other States.

By United Press.

New York, April 29.—A recount of the vote in the New Jersey primary will be demanded by the managers of Senator Hiram Johnson's campaign, it was announced here today following a conference of Johnson's leaders. The demand for a recount is the result of charges by supporters of Johnson in that state that "he was robbed in several counties."

With eighty of the 2,005 districts missing today, Major General Leonard Wood was leading Johnson by 602.

Practically complete returns from Ohio unofficially gave Harding nearly a 17,000 plurality over Wood. The vote stood Harding, 124,526; Wood, 109,390.

Republicans will hold a primary in Maryland and the state convention in Utah Monday, primaries in California and Indiana Tuesday, a state convention in Missouri Wednesday, and a state convention in Colorado Thursday.

The Democrats will hold a primary in California, a state convention in Kentucky Tuesday, and a state convention in Connecticut and Rhode Island Thursday.

SOLDIER BONUS BILL UNCERTAIN

House Ways and Means Committee Endeavor to Effect a Compromise.

FOUR-FOLD PLAN OF AID

Cash Payment Will Amount to About $1.25 for Each Day of Service.

By United Press.

Washington, April 29.—The house ways and means committee met today in an effort to reach a compromise agreement on the various soldier bonus programs that have been submitted.

Virtually the only portion of the measure that will not be under fire is that providing the four-fold plan of aid, which gives the soldier his option of a cash bonus, farm or home building, vocational training or paid up insurance.

The cash bonus will amount to either $1 or $1.25 a day and the allowance for the other features probably fifty cents.

A group of members today was trying to effect a compromise by limiting the bonus to those who sign an affidavit that they are in actual need of it.

Democrats will seek to extend the bonus to all while the Republicans in the main favor excluding all officers except lieutenants and the corresponding ranks in the navy, all who received compensation from private interests and those who were detailed to ship building or other industrial plants where they received additional pay.

The taxing plan, a tax on real transfers, retail sales, stock exchange transactions, with increased levies on incomes above $5,000 on tobacco.

The Democratic and insurgent Republican plan:

A tax of eight per cent on all war profits 1917, 1918, 1919 and 1920.

WOLL'S ATTACK ON KANSAS PLAN STOPPED BY HISSES

American Federation of Labor Official Discontinues Speech Before U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

By United Press.

Atlantic City, April 29.—Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, was forced to discontinue his speech before the United States Chamber of Commerce convention here because of hissing and cries of the delegates. Woll was delivering an attack on the Kansas compulsory arbitration court when cries of "no, no" and "we want Governor Allen," forced him to sit down.

Prolonged applause for Governor Allen interrupted Woll when he began his attack on the Kansas state executive. He began by calling the new law "amusing" and claiming that it took away the rights of the working man to strike by giving the court power to put him in jail if he conspired his fellow workmen against the treatment of capital.

"This is despotism and contrary to the primary rules of government," Woll said. Hissing began and Woll could not make himself heard. He sat down.

Petitions Filed With Indiana Public Service Commission for 1/4 Cent a Mile Increase.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, April 29.—The Public Service Commission today had under consideration petitions of the Terre Haute, Indianapolis and Eastern and the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Companies asking an increase of a quarter of a cent a mile in passenger fare.

The traction companies want a 3 cent basic rate instead of 2 3/4. The increased operating costs are blamed.

It is thought the Union Traction Company will file a similar petition.

The Man On The Job

JOHN S. BENHAM.

Is there any good reason why Congressman John Benham should not be renominated?

He has always stood for clean politics and, at the same time, is known as, at least, the equal of any other man in the District as an efficient organizer. The results of the election of 1918 bear convincing evidence of his ability in this direction. Not only was the District carried—for the first time in its history—for the entire Republican State ticket by a good majority, and by Congressional candidate for the second time in 66 years, but the organization effected under his leadership resulted in the election of 50 per cent more republican county and township officers than ever before in its history.

Representative Benham has never during his brief Congressional career neglected one single public duty, either legislative or in the business administration of his office. No correspondence has been neglected and business matters entrusted to his care have been scrupulously attended to, as hundreds of friends can testify.

Can any good reason be given why an untried man should be named in his place in the May Primary?

Senator Harding's Recent Utterances

These alleged labor propagandists say I am hostile and unfair. The bulletin of organized labor after my six years in the Ohio Senate proclaimed me fair. The boys in our typographical Union up in our printing office in Marion have not only endorsed me but say I am a fair and considerate employer.

Let the workmen who question my attitude invite other aspirants for commission to public service to say where they stand.

I believe in Union labor and practice what I preach. I think Unionism has wrought a liberation and awakened a consciousness which unheeding greed has come near destroying.

I rejoice in high wages, they are here to remain.

Senator Harding, the first publisher in Ohio to establish profit-sharing system, was unanimously endorsed by the Marion Typographical Union.

Endorsement by Typographical Union

Be it Resolved, by the Marion Typographical Union, No. 675, of Marion, Ohio, that we most heartily endorse the candidacy of Senator Warren G. Harding for the Republican nomination for President. We have always found him fair and considerate of all of his employees, always paying more than the established scale of wages, and his plant at Marion, Ohio, has never known any strike or lockout or any dispute with his employees. He, himself, in his younger days, was a practical printer and knows from actual experience and long hours at the case, the trials and cares of a fellow craftsman, and we are particularly proud of having one of our fellow citizens and fellow workmen as a candidate for this high office, especially when we know from our long association with him that he possesses the personal traits and business qualifications essential to this high office.

Resolution unanimously adopted by the Marion, Ohio, Typographical Union.

(27). Do you know that two distinguished Democratic Senators said recently, that "Harding was the ablest man in the Republican party, and that if he were nominated, he could not possibly be defeated?"

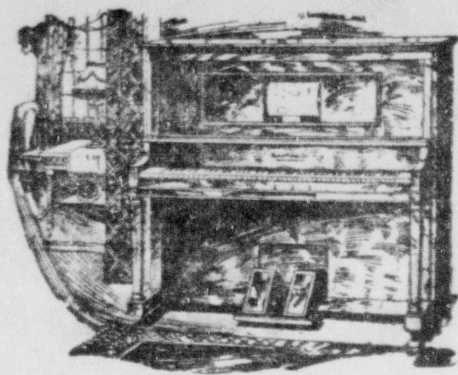

(28). Do you know that Senator Harding has not a single defect in his make up, character, or reputation, that will prevent him from being a great candidate, or a great President?

(29). Do you know that a noted former Democratic State Chairman of Ohio, says that "Harding is the safest and sanest statesman in the American Republic?"

(30). Do you know Republicans, it is your duty as patriotic citizens to ponder well these questions before you cast your vote for President?

The United States needs an administration that "Thinks of America First" and in selecting Senator Harding for its chief executive, there would be placed in Washington a man who would so direct the affairs of that great office.

High School Notes.

(By Maurice Mackey)

Reginald Brinklow, a graduate of Shields high school, favored the assembly with a cornet solo Monday. He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Anna Massman. Miss Gasaway also sang a solo.

On Monday, Superintendent Mott asked for a contribution from all the public schools of the city to erect a monument on the battle field of the Marne to commemorate the battle of the French in 1914. The contributions amounted to quite a nice sum.

After the regular assembly period Wednesday, Fred Ackerman favored the assembly with a trombone solo.

The reports for the second six weeks of the second semester were distributed among the students Tuesday.

The casts for the two class plays "A Pair of Sixes" and "Stop Thief" have been working very hard on the plays under the supervision of Miss Andrews, and both promise to be great successes. Mr. Rhodes, of Shelbyville, will be here Friday to aid in directing the plays.

Work on the Patriot is almost completed and the staff hopes to have it in the hands of the printers by the first of May. The Annual this year promises to be as good, if not better, than those of previous years.

Mr. Henderson announces that on May 6th and 7th the boys studying poultry will give an egg exhibit at the high school.

Many of the students of the high school made frequent excursions to the river last week to see the high waters. The flood conditions furnished a subject for many composition classes.

Get Rid of Reds.

"We have got to be very much more careful of our immigration and not let this country be filled up with a lot of people who are highly undesirable. People who do not believe in our institutions, who have been living under conditions of destruction and disorder; and who will bring here the spirit of license and not love of liberty. We do not want that class of people. We want to get rid, under due process of law, of all that type who are aliens and new in this country. Get them out." Leonard Wood. Adv.

SEVERAL FACTORY BASEBALL CLUBS BEING ORGANIZED

Some Good Games Are Being Arranged Among Employees of Various Manufacturing Companies.

Several of the local manufacturing companies are organizing baseball clubs among their employees and some lively games are being scheduled for this summer. Three of the factories already have teams organized and some games will be played between them in the near future.

Baseball fans are working on the proposition of organizing a fast team for Seymour and building a ball park. It is understood that a number of men have agreed to donate to a fund for a baseball park and many have hopes of seeing one of the fastest amateur teams in Southern Indiana representing Seymour this season.

SPRING FEVER

Following Colds, Grip or Flu,
Thin, Watery or Poisoned Blood

(By Dr. Valentine Mott.)

At this time of year most people suffer from what we term "spring fever" because of a stagnant condition of the blood, because of the toxins (poisons) stored up within the body during the long winter. We eat too much meat, with little or no green vegetables.

Bloodless people, thin, anemic people, those with pale cheeks and lips, who have a poor appetite and feel that tired, worn or feverish condition in the spring-time of the year, should try the refreshing tonic powers of a good alternative and blood purifier. Such a tonic as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, is a standard remedy that can be obtained in tablet or liquid form. Made without alcohol from wild roots and barks.

Milwaukee, Wis.—"For the last twenty years I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, at times, as a general tonic, with excellent results. One bottle in the spring, and one in the fall, is usually all sufficient. It has given me added strength and endurance and has greatly aided me in following the strenuous life of a freight handler. I have also found the Pleasant Pellets very beneficial."—JOHN W. McLAIN, 188 Wisconsin St.

SOCIAL EVENTS

CLASS REUNION.

Sixteen of the thirty members of the class graduating from the Shields High School in 1910 attended the reunion held Wednesday evening in the High School Gymnasium, in honor of the tenth anniversary.

One corner of the gymnasium was arranged to represent the class room in the old high school building. Benches were arranged around the piano. The class colors, green and white, were used profusely in the decorations. The benches were covered with crepe paper, and fitted across the front of the piano were the figures, nineteen hundred and ten, in green and white. A class picture was also displayed, and pennants were hung on the walls.

During the evening the old class songs were sung, and the class prophecy, which had been written in 1910, by Mrs. Edna Sanders, was read. Miss Frances Teckemeyer read letters from seven members of the class who were unable to attend. They were received from Merrill Montgomery, who is in California, Blaine Vogel, Pennsylvania, Frances Murdock Austin, Pennsylvania, Flossie Allen, Linton, Joseph Swope, Zionsville, Elsie Rucker Sheets, Terre Haute, and Fern Ritter, North Carolina. Prof. J. A. Linke, who was superintendent of the schools at that time, also sent a letter.

A pleasant surprise of the evening was when Prof. J. C. Edwards, of Indianapolis, a former teacher in the local schools, arrived at nine o'clock. Two of the teachers of the class attended the reunion. They were Miss Kate Andrews and Mr. Edwards. None of the other teachers were able to attend.

The refreshments were served in the domestic science room, where the guests were seated at the desks. Refreshments of sandwiches, pickles and coffee were served by the committee, of which Mrs. Myra Gates was chairman. Toasts were given by everyone present.

An invitation was extended to the class to the home of Homer Davis in Redding township and plans were made for holding another reunion and picnic sometime during the summer.

The members of the class who attended were Florence Appel, Alma Laupus Appel, Elsie Lawell Rothert, Myra Laupus Gates, Bernice White Hodapp, Lillian Kelley Kern, Frances Teckemeyer, Edna Dobbins Sanders, Francis Gates, Rex Whitson, Homer Davis, Lemuel Day, Cash McOsker, Harold Vehslage, Linden Hodapp and Louis Niemeyer. A number of the families of the members also attended. The members who were unable to attend and who did not send letters are Enola Harris, Christine Meyer, Ada Cordes McCoil, Cincinnati; Frank Wheeler, Cleveland, O.; Forrest Craig, of Pennsylvania, Erma Heuser Fike, of Indianapolis, and Frank Schwab of this city.

During the evening Miss Kate Andrews, principal of the high school, proposed that this class take an active part in the alumni and plans were made to call a meeting soon.

SCHOBERT-HUNSUCKER.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Marie Schobert daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schobert, and Harley Hunsucker, of this city, which took place at high noon Wednesday. The ceremony was read by the Rev. E. C. Wareing, an uncle of the groom, at his home, 270 McGregor Avenue, in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunsucker will remain in Cincinnati until Sunday, the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Wareing, and after their return to this city will make their home with the bride's parents, 520 East Sixth street.

The bride is a popular young lady of this city. She attended the local schools, after which she was engaged as an instructor in music. Until a short time ago she was employed as a bookkeeper with the Jackson County Loan and Trust Company.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hunsucker have the best wishes of their many friends.

BALDWIN SCHOOL.

The closing exercises at the Baldwin school, Redding township, were held today. A basket dinner was served at the noon hour, and was attended by the parents of the pupils. A program of musical numbers and recitations was carried out. The school has been taught by Mrs. Naomi Smith of this city.

ENTERTAINS CLUB.

Mrs. Will Humphrey, East Third street, entertained the members of her club this afternoon in honor of her birthday anniversary of Mrs.

James Mills, who is a member of the club. During the afternoon the guests were taken to the theatre and later a luncheon was served at Mrs. Humphrey's home.

VISIT AT PURDUE.

Miss Margaret McCord, Miss Veva Paul, Miss Mary Louise Honan of this city, and Ralph Thompson, of Hamilton township, left this morning for Lafayette, to spend the week end and to attend the junior prom and the fraternity dances given at Purdue University.

Miss McCord will be a guest at the Signa Chi house, Miss Paul, at the Signa Nu, and Miss Honan and Mr. Thompson at the Phi Delta Theta.

Tires Prematurely Junked.

Experts of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. have estimated that nearly 40% of the tires manufactured are junked before they deliver the maximum mileage built into them.

Why Prematurely Junk your tires? Get all the miles that have been built into them.

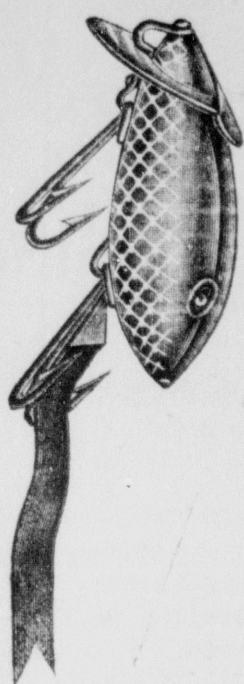

You can get many more miles from your old tires by having these stone bruises, cuts, and blowouts vulcanized before they get any larger.

Economize—was the watchword during the war—now the war is over, but why waste your money buying new tires and tubes when you can have your tires and tubes vulcanized and have as good as new. Economize by having these tires and tubes vulcanized now at Wrapp's Tire Service, cor. Ewing and Second, Seymour. Also shop at North Vernon.

Wood and the Private Soldier.

J. Pennington Gardner, a Massachusetts man who was a private in the Spanish-American war, rises to swear that to his personal knowledge and experience, Leonard Wood isn't a West Point graduate! Neither is he a "hard boiled" officer.

"Wood and I were in the Spanish-American war together," Gardner remarked. "He was a colonel and I was a private, but believe me we were brothers under the khaki just the same."

"We were in Tampa, ready to go over to Cuba. My aunt had come down and took me to a hotel for a good feed. We sat at the only table that had been made ready. Colonel Wood and Brigadier-General Young came in to talk over war matters while they ate. The waiter started to seat them with us, but Wood asked him to set another table. I didn't pay much attention to the incident, thinking it was only military procedure, and a natural desire for secrecy during their conference.

"Next day in camp, General Wood met me and recognized me. He walked to where I was standing and said, 'My boy, I hope you don't mind my not sitting with you and that lady you were dining with last night. We had some private matters to discuss. I hope you understand.'

"Not many army officers would have been so thoughtful," Gardner declared.

MISS MARY BROWN, SCHOOL TEACHER 39 YEARS, DEAD

Widely Known Instructor in Redding Township Expires After Illness With Pneumonia.

Miss Mary E. Brown, aged fifty-eight years, a school teacher in Redding township for thirty-nine years, died at the home of her aunt, Miss Fannie Kress, near Sulphur Springs, at 5:15 o'clock this morning following a short illness with pneumonia. Miss Brown was widely known in school circles throughout the county.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Brown, both deceased, and was born May 13, 1862, in Redding township where she spent her life. "Give me a child until he is seven years old, and I care not who has him afterwards."

Wise words, spoken long ago, by a very wise man.

In those first seven years is formed the character of the man who is to be. Will he be reverent or irreverent? Will he have respect for the rights and property of other men?

These are questions that are answered in the first plastic years—the years when children used to go to Sunday School.

How will they be answered in the future?

Will There Be Any Lincoln Among Them?

Look over the list of men whom America is most proud—Washington, Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley, Roosevelt—every one an idealist. And the roots of their idealism ran deep into the heart of the Christian Church.

Will any Washington or Lincoln be found among these 26 million whom no spiritual influence moulds? Is not the danger of "spiritual illiteracy" an even greater menace to the future of America than mental illiteracy?

Your Church believes it is. Thirty denominations are cooperating in a great program of service called the Interchurch World Movement.

One object of the Movement is to strengthen the forces of religious education everywhere; to bring the 26 million unchurched children within the influence of some kind of religious training, and so to preserve for the America of the future the ideals of the America of the past.

Without the support of American parents such a program could not succeed. With their support it cannot fail. When your church asks for your support, give—and give from your heart as well as from your pocketbook.

in precincts where contests for precinct committee or delegates to the state conventions are waged. However, where four or more candidates are seeking the same office the names appear in different order. The law provides that in such cases the names of the candidates shall "rotate" so that each will appear at the top of the list an equal number of times in each precinct. Inasmuch as a different number of ballots is printed for each precinct many changes were necessary as the number of candidates is not the same in each contest.

The election board has completed all arrangements for the candidates on Tuesday. The township trustees have selected the voting places and the selection of the precinct boards has been practically completed.

The next few days will prove exceptionally busy for the candidates who have opposition. They are making their final appeals to the voters. Many candidates declare that the election is won or lost during the week immediately preceding the election and for this reason they concentrate their effort in a few days' time.

There is considerable speculation among local politicians as to the number of votes that will be cast in the primary. It is thought that the increased interest which has been aroused during the last few days will result in a heavy vote, although it is pointed out that if the weather on Tuesday is fair and warm many farmers may not leave their work to go to the polls. Farm work is delayed and the farmers are making every minute of favorable weather count. The vote in Seymour and the towns is expected to be large.

Wood Arranged It.

Only recently on a tour of South Dakota, Wood took part in one of these typical incidents in Sioux Falls. He had just completed a number of speeches and was on his way to the hotel to get some much needed rest for his evening speech, when a soldier on crutches approached.

"General," said the soldier after he had stopped and saluted, "There are twenty wounded soldiers in the hospital here and we would like to have you visit us before you leave the city. Do you think you can arrange it?"

"There is nothing to arrange. I'll go right now," said Wood, and inviting the soldier into the machine with him, he ordered the driver to go to the hospital, where he spent an hour with the wounded boys. adv.

Department Shows Profit.

By United Press.
Indianapolis, April 29.—By a decrease in the cost of operating and an increase in revenues raised, the fish and game division of the Department of Conservation profited to the aggregate of $45,793.09 for the twelve months from April 1, 1919 to April 1, 1920, as compared to a similar period in 1918-19, according to George N. Mannefeld, superintendent of this division. From April 1919 to April this year receipts of this division were $119,411.05. For twelve months previous they were $85,630.97 a net gain for this last year of $33,780.08. CHALMERS

Hot Spot and Ram's-horn
Solve a Serious Problem

THOSE who understand motor cars know that the prevailing weakness is the inability of the various engines to deliver satisfactory results from gasoline. Gas has gone down and down in grade and engines have not been redesigned to meet the lower grade of fuel.

Chalmers engineers were first to supply the answer to this serious problem. They devised the Hot Spot and Ram's-horn.

The raw "gas," too heavy for the carburetor to vaporize it properly, strikes the Hot Spot, and the result is much like a drop of water falling on the top of a red-hot stove.

Thus the heavy "gas" is turned into a "dry cloud" and before it has the slightest chance to revert to "mist" it is rushed via the Ram's-horn manifold into the cylinders.

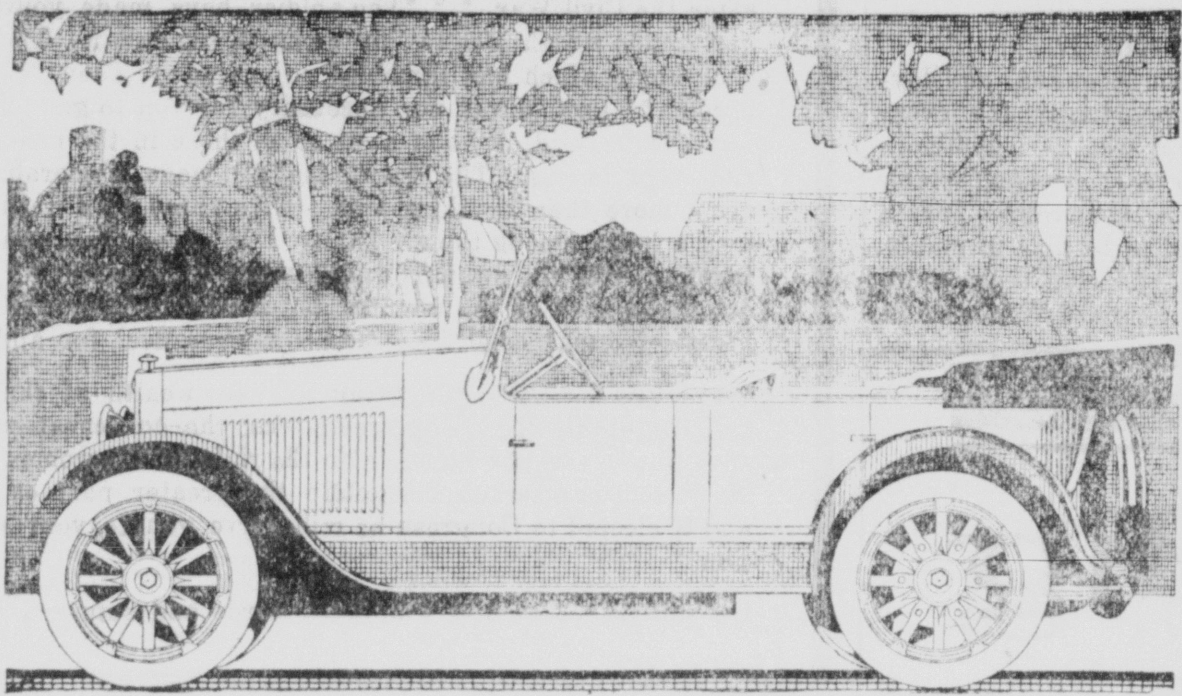

As the spark plugs touch off this finely vaporized fuel you get instantaneous combustion and maximum power.

You get smoothness, the absence of vibration and the consequent saving in repair bills from burned bearings, scored cylinders, fouled spark plugs and many troubles that are all traceable back to the inferior "gas" of the day.

Ride in a Chalmers and you, too, will say that it is one of the few great cars of the day.

ORCHARDISTS FEAR THAT FRUIT HAS BEEN DAMAGED

Cold Weather has Killed Cherries,
According to Some Reports—
Peaches Probably Nipped.

That some varieties of fruit in this county have been killed by the unseasonable weather, is the belief of some orchardists who have examined the blossoms. It is said that many of the cherry blossoms show the effect of the cold weather and the late freezes and that there is danger that the fruit has been so weakened by the cold that it will not mature even if the blossoms have not been killed.

A few orchardists declare that it is yet a little early to make any accurate estimate as to the probable crop of fruit this summer. Peaches in some sections have been nipped and the owners of trees have no hope of picking any crop. Apples, it is believed, have escaped serious damage.

The late spring is expensive to farmers as they are unable to put in the crops at the proper time. Hundreds of acres were prepared for oats yet it has been impossible to seed the fields because of the excessive rainfall. While it is not regarded as safe to sow oats after April 20, many farmers expect to sow them as late as May 10, if necessary. Seed put in the ground at that late day usually produces a small crop, but the farmers expect to use the straw for feed.

Plowing for corn is also delayed by the wet weather.

No Blind Leaping.

"We want to progress but we want no blind leap in the dark. We want to know that our feet are on the ground, we want to keep our ideals high, our eyes to the front and not jump around too rapidly just now. We want to hold on to the things we know are sound and stable. We want to go ahead but know definitely where we are going." Leonard Wood. Adv.

She finished her breakfast in thoughtful silence; then she went to the telephone and called up Bryce. He recognized her voice instantly and called her name before she had opportunity to announce her identity.

"Thank you so much for the beautiful roses, Mr. Cardigan," she began.

"I'm glad you liked them. Nobody picks flowers out of our garden, you know. I used to, but I'll be too busy hereafter to bother with the garden. By the way, Miss Summer, does your uncle own a car?"

"I believe he does—a little old rat-trap which he drives himself."

"Then I'll send George over with the Napier this afternoon. You might care to take a spin out into the surrounding country. By the way, Miss Summer, you are to consider George and that car as your personal property. I fear you're going to find Sequoia a dull place; so whenever you wish to go for a ride, just call me up, and I'll have George report to you."

"But think of all the expensive gasoline and tires!"

"Oh, but you mustn't look at things from that angle after you cross the Rocky mountains on your way west. What are you going to do this afternoon?"

"I don't know. I haven't thought that far ahead."

"For some real sport I would suggest that you motor up to Laguna Grande. That's Spanish for Big Lagoon, you know. Take a rod with you. There are some hand-locked salmon in the lagoon."

"But I haven't any rod."

"I'll send you over a good one."

"But I have nobody to teach me how to use it," she hinted daintily.

"I appreciate that compliment," he flashed back at her, "but unfortunately my holidays are over for a long long time. I took my father's place in the business this morning."

"So soon?"

"Yes. Things have been happening while I was away. However, speaking of fishing, George Sea Otter will prove an invaluable instructor. He is a good boy and you may trust him implicitly. On Thursday evening you can tell what success you had with the salmon."

"Oh, that reminds me, Mr. Cardigan. You can't come Thursday evening."

after all." And she explained the reason. "Suppose you come Wednesday night instead."

"We'll call that a bet. Thank you."

She chuckled at his frank good humor. "Thank you, Mr. Cardigan, for all your kindness and thoughtfulness; and if you will persist in being nice to me, you might send George Sea Otter and the car at one-thirty. I'll be glad to avail myself of both until I can get a car of my own sent up from San Francisco. Till Wednesday night, then. Good bye."

As Bryce Cardigan hung up, he heaved a slight sigh. It was difficult to get out of the habit of playing; he found himself the possessor of a very great desire to close down the desk, call on Shirley Sumner, and spend the remainder of the day basking in the sunlight of her presence.

Following his discovery of the outrage committed on his father's sanctuary, Bryce wasted considerable valuable time and effort in a futile endeavor to gather some further hint of the identity of the vandals; but despairing at last, he dismissed the matter from his mind, resolving only that on Thursday he would go up into Pennington's woods and interview the redoubtable Jules Rondeau. Bryce's natural inclination was to wait upon M. Rondeau immediately. If not sooner, but the recollection of his dinner engagement at the Pennington home warned him to proceed cautiously; for while harboring no apprehensions as to the outcome of a possible clash with Rondeau, Bryce was not so optimistic as to believe he would escape unscathed from an encounter.

DRASTIC REGULATIONS ARE PROMULGATED BY JAPANESE

Armed Russians Ordered From Certain Areas of Siberia—Warships on Scene.

By United Press.

Tokio, April 29.—Drastic regulations compelling all Russians in Siberian territory occupied by Japanese troops to withdraw from those areas have been submitted to the Russian provisional government, according to a war office statement issued today.

All Russian warships, ammunition, arms and barracks must be turned over to Japanese troops temporarily, the ultimatum said.

Communication must be promptly restored. The troops' withdrawal order allow only a small number of Russian police to remain within thirty kilometers of all places where Japanese troops are stationed, the statement said. Two Japanese warships yesterday landed troops at a Siberian port about 400 miles north of Vladivostok, according to a war office report. Russian troops retreated without resistance, the official report said. Japanese residents of the city were taken on board the war vessel.

SAYS POTATO PRICES WILL BE LOWER NEXT YEAR

Department of Conservation Bases Prediction on Greatly Increased Crop.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, April 29.—Potato prices will be lower next year, Frank N. Wallace, chief of the division of entomology in the department of conservation said today.

Wallace based his belief on an expected heavy production this year. Although it is not yet time to plant late potatoes, Wallace said that many people who have never grown spuds will do so this year.

"It is the psychological result of high prices," the entomologist asserted. "Whenever the price of potatoes is unusually high, the public turns its attention toward reducing the price by producing in its backyard."

Indiana farmers also will plant a larger acreage of potatoes than they do when the price is low, Wallace added. This, too, will tend to overstock the market and cause a reduction in price.

They saved your home which has thrived in value. They fought so heroically that it was not necessary for you to go. They deserve to be paid as good a wage as those in the cantonments and other places. The discriminating wage demoralized the army more than anything else. Training Little Children

By Mrs. Ethel G. Young.

Suggestions by mothers who have been kindergartners. Issued by the United States Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., and the National Kindergarten Association, 3 West Fortieth Street, New York.

Training the Child to be Self-Reliant.

The development of self-reliance is of vital importance in child training, and one cannot begin too early to teach children to help themselves. Often, it is very much harder and may take more time to let them do something than do it oneself; but, time and effort are not wasted when they are thus spent.

The best way to help a child to become self-reliant is to give him simple duties at first, adding more difficult ones as he grows older. At an early age, every baby will try to take off his shoes. Instead of scolding him for doing this, show him how to do it and also how to put them on again. After learning this, he will soon try to manage the rest of his clothing; before long, he will be able to dress and undress himself with very little help.

Self-reliance and orderliness may be developed in a child at the same time, for the little one who can take out and put away his own toys may play with them when he will. If he has a place for everything and keeps everything in its place, he can have much more freedom for play, and will not have to wait for someone to come to his assistance.

Often a child asks for help in doing something which he could do for himself if he only knew how. Too often a busy or impatient mother will wait upon her child to save time, and then the next time he wants the same help, he will come to her again. If the mother had taken a few moments the first time to show him how to help himself, there would have been no second time. For example, not long ago a little three-year-old boy came to me and asked for a drink. I told him to go into the kitchen and get it, but he said he could not reach the glass. "Oh, yes, you can," I replied. "I will tell you how. Get a chair and push it near the table; then stand on it and see if you can't reach the glass." He did as he was told and in a few minutes came running to me with a beaming face saying, "I'm a big boy now; I can get a drink all by myself."

Self-reliance means confidence in oneself. If one can rely upon his own powers, he most certainly develops them. A child who is taught how to cross the street properly develops his hearing, seeing and reasoning powers.

Of course, we as mothers, must guide the child who is self-reliant in the right direction and the best way to do this is to put more faith in him. Let him realize that we expect him to do the right thing and in nearly every instance he will do it, because he feels his mother's confidence in him. In other words, we must always look for the best in our children instead of something with which to find faults and that if she would correct smaller faults, remembering that we are sometimes exasperating ourselves. A certain mother once complained that she did not know why her child was so naughty when she tried to punish him for every misdeed. His father told her that she saw too many faults, and that if she would correct the big evils, the little ones would disappear. Remember to praise the child whenever he accomplishes something new. Develop his initiative, by helping him to discover things for himself. Soon he will not only be helping himself, but others as well; he will grow more and more considerate.

Making the Broom Last.

The marked increase in the prices charged for brooms has caused the housekeeper to regard them with new respect, becoming more than ever desirous of preserving them to their last usefulness. It is real economy to choose the best quality, when buying a broom, for one that is well-made will outlast several of an inferior variety. One should be sure that there are at least four rows of stitching across the top of the straws, as this number is required to insure durability. In the cheaper rooms three rows are usually the most provided, and they do not hold the straws tightly enough to keep them from falling out with brisk sweeping.

It is hardly necessary to say that to stand a broom on its straws is to give it the worst treatment possible, since its weight will soon cause the body to sag to one side and thus deprive it of the efficiency which is the result of the regularity of the straws. The broom should have its regular place on the wall, or in a closet, where it hangs upside down when not in use. If one has no regular bracket, a home-made device may be found helpful. Two nails should be driven into the wall, two inches apart and about four feet from the floor, and then another pair, about two and one-half feet above these, should be inserted the same distance apart. The broom is placed so that the straw body rests on the upper nails, while the lower nails support the handle.

One housekeeper finds that she can renew her broom by soaking it in hot suds for a time, then allowing it to dry thoroughly in the bright sun. At this point, it is possible to cut the bristles evenly once more, so that they will brush over the nap thoroughly.

It is not uncommon to see neat cloth covers, fitted to the upper half of the broom body, sewed on securely to prevent the straws from breaking at the top and thus slipping out below. When the broom is past all further usefulness, a heavy bag may be fitted over the entire surface and fastened by a drawing string at the top, where the handle begins. Such a covering, if of absorbent material, will make it a handy dust mop for floor surfaces. Its best feature is found in the fact that the cover may be slipped off and washed much more easily and satisfactorily than may an ordinary string mop.

STYLES IN SPRING SUITS

Short jackets and tastefully applied braid trimming are featured in the new spring suits. A compromise between coat and jacket appears in the model shown above in which the coat ends at the front with the braided girdle but is the usual length at the back.

Fastidious housekeepers often apply an enamel coating over the handles of their brooms, because they find them much more agreeable to handle than those of the unvarnished wood, besides being far more decorative in the spotless kitchen.

A Raffia Pillow.

Both interesting and distinctive in appearance is a raffia pillow, which anyone accustomed to crocheting can easily make. This pillow is oblong, measuring 36 inches in diameter and about 27 inches long. The ends were flat circles, corresponding in design and coloring with the pillow.

Rather a fine raffia was used, and rather a coarse needle. With two strands of raffia 15 inches of plain tan raffia was crocheted in single-stitch pattern; then the colorings used in a Roman striped scarf were used—dull reds, blues, yellows—and crocheted in stripes about an inch wide, a stripe of tan being left between each colored stripe. This makes a very effective pillow for use in a porch swing; or in the sun parlor in colder seasons.

Remnants of Linen.

A new use for remnants or for discarded breadths of marrowed linen skirts is to make pillow slips of them—pillow slips designed to cover the small most used couch cushions.

Make these slips just like ordinary pillow cases with hemstitched hems. They will give a fresh, clean, dainty effect that is often lacking when cushion covers are chosen for service in the reaction from the days when, to use one of the elaborately ruffled "sofa cushions," was nothing short of sacrilege.

If you have enough of one color linen make two or three covers and use them on the cushions at one time. When these go to the laundry change to another shade. But if you haven't enough for more than one of a kind, choose the colors that go best together to use at any one time. In general shades of linen are soft and blend well.

As for comfort—nothing feels quite as cool and restful and clean as linen, and certainly no material after repeated tubbings acquires a lovelier sheen than does pure linen.

To darn table linens on the sewing machine, remove the presser foot, use a fine needle and thread, put an embroidery hoop on wrong side of linen, then turn the work over, bringing the flat surface downward and the right side of linen up. Feed back and forth. This requires practice but is worth learning.

The REASON WHY

From the "Book of Wonders" copyrighted and published by the Bureau of Industrial Education, Washington, D. C.

Where Does the Wind Begin?

The movement of the currents of air leaves many pockets of space where there is no air, and when one of these is uncovered the air rushes in and creates a wind in doing so. These air currents are continually pressing against each other to get some place else. They change their direction according to the pressure that is being applied to them. Sometimes the pressure will be very light in one part of the air, many miles away perhaps, and then the air in another part, which is under great pressure, will rush with great force into the part where the pressure is light, and thus form a big wind. When the pressure stops the wind stops.

We have probably felt the wind which comes out of the valve of the automobile tire when the cap is taken off to pump up the tire. It is a real wind that comes out. The reason is that the air in the tube of the tire is under great pressure, and when the opportunity is given to get where the pressure is light it starts for that place with a rush and comes out of the valve a real wind.

Why Does the Sound Stop When We Touch a Gong That Has Been Sounded?

When we touch the gong we stop the sound waves which the gong gives off when it is struck. These sound waves continue after the gong has been struck in continuous vibrations until something stops them. When you touch the vibrating gong, you stop its vibrating. If you only touch your finger to the vibrating gong you can feel the vibrations which cause a little tickling sensation. Naturally when you stop these vibrations you stop the air waves which the vibrations cause, and thus also the sound of these air waves striking your ear are stopped and the sound ceases.

Why Do They Call Them Wisdom Teeth?

The wisdom teeth are the two last molar teeth to grow. They come one on each side of the jaw and arrive somewhere between the ages of twenty and twenty-five years. The name is given them because it is supposed that when a person has developed physically and mentally to the point where he has secured these last two teeth he has also arrived at the age of discretion. It does not necessarily mean that one who has cut his wisdom teeth is wise, but that having lived long enough to grow these, which complete the full set of teeth.

Coal oil can be used for kindling fires without danger of an explosion. All that is needed is an old tin can, an old spoon and some ashes. Pour enough oil over the ashes to make them pasty. A quart canful will last a week.

SUIT WITH FLARING COAT

Every woman ought to be able to find a becoming suit this spring because there is no great variety in accepted styles. Skirts appear to be more or less plain and straight hanging, but there is no similarity in coats. Many of them fit quite snugly above the waist line and flare below it, others follow the box coat model, hanging in straight lines from neck to hem, and still others flare from the shoulders down, like the sprightly model pictured.

Small buttons and narrow silk braid, applied with beautiful accuracy, provide its decoration.

are well secured. The sureties, of course, were amazed when the facts came to light.

The revelation came a few days ago when some of the earlier notes fell due and a demand was made upon Brand to settle them. One revelation led to another and Brand of his own accord is reported to have made a complete confession of the whole unusual transaction, to have given to the authorities the names of all those with whom he has played poker during the last fourteen months and all other circumstances in connection with the case.

Under the Indiana law suit may be instituted for the collection of money lost in gambling and it is under this statute that Brand's attorneys will proceed. Some of the men who went security on Brand's notes held a conference Wednesday night, at which the matter was discussed in detail and a decision was reached to file suit against those who are known to have won from Brand to recover the money. Mr. Brand secured money on notes signed by approximately thirty people at different times during the fourteen months. All of his losses, it is said, will come from the money which he borrowed and that his insurance records are straight.

Regardless of whether civil suits are instituted it is regarded highly probable that the attention of S. B. Lowe, prosecuting attorney, will be brought to the sensational developments and that a thorough investigation will be made by a grand jury in the near future. The public is aroused over the fact that gambling of this magnitude has been going on in this city and it is highly probable that the revelations will result in an investigation of the most far-reaching character.

Soft Drink Prices Aviate.

Soft drinks, like nearly every other commodity, have increased in price. The increased prices are said to be due to the greater cost of sugar and other materials used in their preparation. Coca cola, one of the most popular drinks, has increased in price from six cents to eight cents. Prices of other drinks and fancy dishes have increased correspondingly at most of the fountains.

GOVERNMENT IS READY TO STOP MAY DAY OUTBREAKS

Justice Department Agents are Watching Recognized Red and Radical Leaders.

By United Press.
Washington, April 29—The government is ready to cope with any revolutionary demonstration which may be attempted Saturday, May 1, international labor day. Justice department agents all over the country have received their instructions, it was learned today. There have been many rumors of bombs in the mails, general strikes and other manifestations. Known red leaders are being watched and headquarters of bolsheviks are practically under guard and will remain so until after May 1. It has been impossible to confirm a report that violent radicals from whom trouble is feared are to be jailed quietly on the eve of May day and to be retained until the time for the demonstration is passed.

Tax Reduction.

"Nothing will help more in pushing forward legitimate business than to spread the burden of the war over a much longer period of years than is now contemplated. We want to spread our business abroad over the world—our commerce and our trade. We must protect American business which needs protection." Leonard Wood. Adv.

INCREASED PRODUCTION

Of Print Paper in 1921 is Predicted By Paul Patterson.

By United Press.
Washington, April 29—Print paper production will be increased by 300,000 tons next year, Paul Patterson, of the Baltimore Sun, told the senate print paper investigating committee today. "It is very clear that the shortage now existing is due to increase of consumption beyond capacity of the mills," he said. "I think the manufacturers are showing moderation in prices charged. A few small wildcat manufacturers are selling in the stock market and that is where the extremely high prices are being charged."

The People's Candidate.

While I have endeavored to call upon the Republicans of the county during my canvass for the Republican nomination for sheriff, it has been impossible for me to see each one personally and I take this means of presenting my candidacy. I will endeavor, if nominated and elected, to serve the people of Jackson county to the best of my ability and to conduct the affairs of the office in an efficient and economical manner. I feel that the coupe which I used recently to effect the arrest in Franklin of automobile bandits operating in this county demonstrates my ability to serve as sheriff. I have been given splendid co-operation and support in my candidacy and will appreciate any assistance given me. dlw1 J. U. Montgomery.
